Experiences

The Mobile Majority
Ruby Engineer

21 September 2014 – Present

Key ruby engineer on Santa Monica team.

Gives support to web development team on eloquent ruby and TDD/BDD best practices.

Added new first–in–industry features to large MongoDB–backed RESTful ad management tool.

Peachtree Medical Billing
Lead Developer

2 August 2012 – 20 September 2014

Principle developer on an application that parses EDI documents and posts payments to Peachtree's internal software, performing several hours of work in a matter of seconds. Contributor to the Stupidedi gem.

Spearheaded future development of internal software by breaking up a single large code base into smaller, pluggable packages and applications and guiding development out of Ruby 1.8.7 and into 2.1

Led end–to–end development and training in a team of up to 3 other developers. Introduced them to TDD and BDD, pair programming, wrote much of the test suite, and initiated a series of tech talks to promote best practices and new technologies.

Administered Linux, Gitolite, Gitlab and MySQL servers.
